RE: CONGRESSIONAL REDISTRICTING MAPS
Comments submitted for the public hearing record

Dear Senator Argall and Committee Members,

The people of Pennsylvania deserve to have confidence in the structure of our government and that the fairly elected officials represent all the voters.

In order to achieve that public confidence, it is essential that the proposed final redistricting maps be made public to enable review and provide comments, and to reconcile comments before the maps are put into use. The basis for those maps must be fully described and justified in support of the proposed district boundaries, and also made publicly available so we can all understand the reasons for drawing the boundaries as shown.

The people of Pennsylvania are watching the redistricting process closely and look forward to having fair and representative congressional and legislative districts.

Thank you for your attention. I look forward to reviewing your final maps.
